OVERVIEW

Our firm focuses on the entire design process—from the initial development of plans and the custom construction to the complete interior design and final complete installation.

John Bass and Marjorie Slovack, custom homebuilder and interior designer, own and operate their own “design-build-design” firm. Since 1976, they have limited the design and building to custom homes, preferring the input and satisfaction of a client as well as the personal relationship created. In addition, each designer chosen to work with their team has talent and high skill levels to bring to each project. Their expertise in construction has earned them a reputation for being a discerning and valuable partner from the initial design.
